

ready for your next career opportunity?

Tēnā koutou, during this year we've witnessed the impact COVID-19 has had on Kiwi's.

Here at Randstad we believe that finding meaningful work provides a brighter future for all. We feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to support you, everyday Kiwi's whose livelihoods have been impacted due to COVID-19.

Randstad has partnered with the Ministry of Social Development to create a "Future-work Readiness Programme". This personalised programme will provide you with the knowledge and support to help you confidently enter the job market, creating a clear pathway to, and retention of, sustainable employment.

The programme is designed in such a way that combines both one-on-one support and connecting participants in an 'Introduction Workshop' which will establish community support and provide a trusted network of people who are in the same situation as you. We will work with you to update your CV, work on your digital personal brand, look at career planning, provide you with market information, toolkits and introductions to our clients based across New Zealand.

Being out of work or being made redundant is a significant life change and can come with feelings of uncertainty and stress. Randstad is here to support you.

For more information on the programme, please call 0800 735 328 or email jobready@randstad.co.nz
