

privacy collection statement

randstad new zealand

Randstad Limited (Randstad) is a member of the Randstad global group of companies (Randstad Group).

This Privacy Collection Statement applies to all Randstad operations in New Zealand.

1. protecting your privacy

At Randstad your privacy is important to us. We are committed to ensuring that your privacy is respected and maintained at all times. Randstad complies with all applicable privacy laws, including the Information Privacy Principles as well as our existing obligations of confidentiality.

This Privacy / Collection Statement explains how we collect information, including personal information, and how we maintain, use and disclose that information. It also provides some detail about your privacy rights along with our general rights and obligations in relation to the information we keep on record.

2. Types of information that we collect and hold

The type of information that we typically collect and hold will vary depending on our relationship with you. These relationships are generally categorised as:

- candidates - include all individuals who approach us, or who are engaged by us in the process of seeking or performing work with us or our clients;
- clients - include all individuals/companies who we deal with for the purpose of providing recruitment solutions and services for their business; and
- referees - include all individuals who we contact in evaluating our candidates' capabilities and suitability for employment.

We may also collect personal information from you if you contact us, for example by phone or email, and do not fall into one of the above categories.

2.1 candidates

If you are a candidate we collect your personal information as reasonably necessary for us to determine your suitability for work with us or through us. The main types of personal information we collect about you as a candidate are:

- your name and contact details, including your address, email address and phone numbers;
- your date of birth;
- your gender;

Each time you visit our web site statistical data is collected. This data is not linked to a particular person and does not provide us with any personal information.

4. how your information will be collected – attending an interview

4.1 candidates

Personal information will be collected from you directly when you attend an interview with one of our staff members. At this time you will complete our registration paperwork or any other information in connection with your application to us for registration.

Personal information will also be collected when:

- we receive any reference about you;
- we receive results of inquiries that we might make with your former employers, work colleagues, professional associations or registration body;
- we receive the results of your work rights status;

- we receive the results of any competency or medical test;
- we receive performance feedback (whether positive or negative);
- we receive any complaint from or about you in the workplace;
- we receive any information about a workplace accident in which you are involved;
- we receive a response from a job advertisement – either written, verbal or email
- we receive any information about any insurance investigation, litigation, registration or professional disciplinary matter, criminal matter, inquest or inquiry in which you are involved;
- you provide us with any additional information about you.

4.2 clients

If you are a client the ways in which we collect personal information about you are when:

- we meet you or interact with you and you express an interest in our services; and
- when you provide your opinion or feedback regarding one of our candidates.

4.3 referees

If you are a referee the ways in which we collect personal information about you are when:

- a candidate provides us with your contact details and informs us that you have consented to such collection; and
- when we take notes of our dealings with you including your opinions of the suitability of a candidate for work with or through us.

4.4 general - visiting our web site & online

You can visit our web site and browse without the need to disclose any personal information.

When you visit the Randstad web site, we record anonymous information such as the date and time of your visit, the server/IP address, which site was visited and the information viewed and/or downloaded. The information gathered cannot be directly matched to an individual and is only used for administration and statistical purposes such as error logging. The information cannot tell us anything about you; it can only tell us about how you used our web site. This information can help us determine what areas of our web site are most beneficial to our visitors. No attempt is made by Randstad to identify users or their browsing activities.

If you visit the Candidate Registration web site and register on-line for employment opportunities, or visit the client resources site to register a vacancy, we do collect some personal information about you, which you volunteer by filling in your details. The information required may include providing basic personal details such as your name, address, phone number and email address etc. You may also submit your resume or a position description. The information gathered at this point is stored in our database for retrieval and use by Randstad staff only for the purposes for which it was intended. By submitting your personal information in this way, you acknowledge and accept our Privacy / Collection Statement.

When submitting a time sheet via our web site, the information is transmitted directly to our payroll division, where it is only used for the intended purpose and is not disclosed to anyone outside the organisation. There is no collection of personal information until you have completed the time sheet and submit to Randstad for processing.

We do not disclose any information gathered about your visit to our web site, or personal information that you provide through the Candidate Registration process, such as your name, address etc. to any other organisation outside the Randstad Group, unless you give your express consent, or if we are required to do so by law.

At times you may forward an email to us via the email link in our web site. The information collected through this email will only be used for the purpose for which you have provided it. Your details will not be added to our database, unless specified by you, nor will we disclose or use your information for any other purpose, than the intended purpose.

- to confirm identity and authority to provide references;
- candidate suitability assessment; and
- recruitment functions.

5.4 our policy on direct marketing

We may sometimes use personal information for marketing purposes but only in the following ways:

- we will contact candidates while they are registered us with updates in relation to employment opportunities, market information and promotions from time to time;
- we will send subscribers to our website with news and job alerts to which they have subscribed; and
- we will contact clients, with whom we have a relationship, with market information and promotions from time to time.

When sending direct marketing material we will give you the option as to whether or not you wish to receive further marketing communications and we will remain compliant with anti-spam legislation. Personal information is not used by or disclosed to any third party for marketing purposes.

6. disclosure of your information

6.1 candidates

Your personal information may be disclosed to:

- potential and actual employers and clients of Randstad;
- referees;
- other members of Randstad;
- our insurers;
- a professional association or registration body that has a proper interest in the disclosure of your personal and sensitive information;
- the Accident Compensation Corporation;
- any government department or body (or their agents) to verify your work rights status;
- a designated, registered training provider in relation to training and personal development opportunities;
- any person with a lawful entitlement to obtain the information; and
- prospective employers to use to verify suitability for employment.

We will advise you of our intentions and gain consent before we refer your personal information to our clients for possible work opportunities.

6.2 related purpose disclosures

We outsource a number of services to contracted service suppliers (CSPs) from time to time. Such CSPs may be located overseas. As part of the outsourcing arrangement with a CSP, they may need access to some of your personal information.

Typically our CSPs would include:

- software solutions providers;
- I.T. contractors and database designers and Internet service suppliers;
- legal and other professional advisors;
- insurance brokers, loss assessors and underwriters;
- background checking and screening agents; and
- talent marketplace platforms.

We take reasonable steps to ensure that terms of service with our CSPs recognise that we are bound by obligations to protect the privacy of your personal information and that they will not do anything that would cause us to breach those obligations.

7. if you do not give us the information we seek

You can refuse to provide us with your personal information. However if you do not give us this information, we may not be able to provide our services to you. For example, if you are a candidate we may be limited in our ability to locate suitable work for you.

8. how does randstad protect the security of your information

We take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification and disclosure.

We have a number of safety measures in place to protect your information. For example, your personal information is stored in secured offices and in computerised databases which require a log in and password to gain access. Access to the database is only available to those who require such access. All staff are bound by a confidentiality agreement regarding company and customer information.

Visitors to our premises are always accompanied by a member of staff for the duration of the visit.

We use secure methods to destroy or de-identify personal information as soon as the law permits and provided that the information is no longer needed by us. When you advise us that you are no longer looking for work opportunities and therefore do not wish to be registered with us, we will de-identify your data base record and destroy your personal information, unless you advise us otherwise or unless it is a requirement by law such as retained tax/wages information.

9. you can gain access to your information to correct it if it is wrong

9.1 General

Subject to some exceptions which are set out in the Information Privacy Principles (Principle 6 – Access to Personal Information and Principle 7 – Correction to Personal Information), you have a right to see and have a copy of personal information about you that we hold.

If you are able to establish that personal information that we hold about you is not accurate, complete and up-to-date, we will take reasonable steps to correct it so that it is accurate, complete and up-to-date.

If we are unable to agree that personal information that we hold about you is accurate, complete and up-to-date, you may ask us to place with the information a statement by you that claims that particular information is not accurate, complete and up-to-date.

If you wish to exercise your rights of access and correction you should contact our Privacy Officer, whose details are listed shown in section 12.

In some cases we may impose a moderate charge for providing access to personal information. We will not charge you simply because you lodge a request for access.

9.2 candidates

If you are a candidate, information provided by referees or from clients about you is often given on a confidential basis. Accordingly, disclosing the opinions given by a referee or client may have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of those individuals. If referees or clients provide information about you on a confidential basis, you may not access this information, and we will not be able to share it with you without the consent of the referee or client (as applicable).

10. external sites

External sites that are linked to or from the Randstad web site are not under our control and you are advised to review their Privacy Statement. Users should note there are inherent risks associated with the transmission of information via the Internet and you should therefore make your own assessment of the potential risk to the security of your information.

11. changes to our privacy policy

If at any time our Privacy Policy changes, the updated details will always be available on our web site for your perusal. If at any time you have a question or concern regarding Randstad and privacy, please contact us at privacy@randstad.co.nz.

12. how to contact us

If you have any questions in relation to privacy or wish to make an access request or a privacy complaint, please contact the Privacy Officer on the details below during normal office hours 9.00am to 5.30pm Monday to Friday. Our Privacy Officer will contact you within a reasonable time (not exceeding 30 days) after receipt of your request or complaint to discuss your concerns and to outline options regarding how they may be resolved.
